Games Students

WELCOME TO SOUTH. START HERE.

Can't find room 301. Where'd it go?

See old friends. Jump ahead 2 spaces.

Elected homeroom president. Jump ahead 3 spaces.

MR. MAAS'S OFFICE

Dropped teachers flower vase and broke it. Lose turn.

No homework tonight. Go visit friends.

Got caught bringing your lunch to third hour, stay after class five minutes.

You too can play the game students play. To get through the year is the object of the game. You start fresh out of summer with a notebook in hand. As you pass through the year you may meet with success or failure. Along the way you make decisions that may change your whole life. At the end you will have a lot of memories of a year playing the game students played at South.

Start on page two and work your way through the year. We hope you will enjoy playing the game with students at South.

Brent Cremens shows Dr. Jack P. Taylor what seventh hour careers is all about while Mr. Laeding and Mr. Hrinik observe.

Careers is a new class added to our ninth grade curriculum this year. It has proved to be very useful in aiding students to choose their careers. It is an interesting and informative class.

South School has a very fine art department. Here students are given an opportunity to develop and display their talents.

The girls and boys phys. ed. classes are being graded on a point system this year. The more points a student earns, the higher grade he receives.

Faculty Members Teach Many Skills

In our math department students have faced the fact that the metric system is now here. Our math teachers are stressing it to our students to prepare them for when the change to the metric system is complete. In the Fine Arts Department of our school, music teaches skills in vocal and instrumental areas. Our community, faculty, and student body enjoy their talents. The metric system is being stressed in science too. Studies in natural science, the human body, and other areas are being taught throughout the school year also.

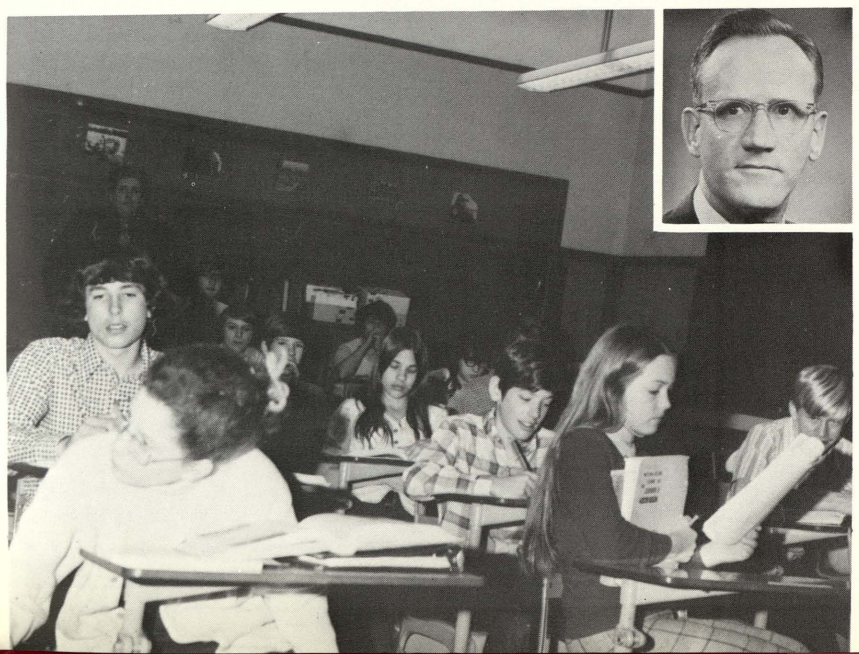
Offer a Variety for Students

L. TO R.) Mr. James Nyquist, Mrs. Margaret Tenney, Dr. Lloyd Jensen and Mr. Ronald Greiner pause for a moment to have their pictures taken.



South's curriculum offers a variety of classes for its students. The ninth grade English classes are offered either academic or basic English. Also the ninth grade students have the choice of taking either general math, introductory algebra, or algebra. The seventh grade has a class called rounds which consists of vocal music, public speaking, and art, each for two marking periods.

Mardi Gras Smashing Success

Believe it or not South's Spectacular started out as a circus. This annual talent show was named Spendless and Seemore Circus which first started in 1931.

In 1957 the Spendless Seemore circus was changed to the Southern Spectacular. They were held annually until 1963. Mistress and Master of Ceremonies for this year's Spectacular were: Derek Chisholm, Diane Fink, Lisa Jordon, Becky Stutesman and Skip Sylvester.

They kept the audience entertained in between acts dressed as Donald Duck and Minny Mouse.

This year's Spectacular had seventeen acts. Those not shown are: South School Band, Dance Reveiw, Darlene Sharp (solo), Olympians, John Kissel (drum solo), Sunbeamers, Madrigals, Sue Tweetmeyer (piano solo), and Joy DeYoung (solo).

As in other years this year's Southern Spectacular showed a fine collection of talents as a product of much hard work from both students and teachers.

(ABOVE) A pantomine, done by Lori Daignault, was a breath catching act for the crowd. (RIGHT) South's stage band cheered us with their finger-snapping rhythm.

The Stumble Bums had the audience roaring with laughter with their silly stumbling.

Daring! Exciting! This Cycling Quartet rode around on one wheel! They were (L. TO R.) Dennis and Sally Brochard, Joan Wilson, and Diane Holnagel.

This group of ninth grade boys put on a hilarious act. They were called "The Rebel Knockers."

This year's eighth grade kickers danced to the theme "What The World Needs Now." They are (L. TO R.): D. Rosenfield, K. Paige, C. Thompson, J. Lewis, E. Howard, D. Welzein, M. Schmid, J. Mitchell, J. Downey, J. Kliefoth, P. Frawley, B. Buffa, S. Schuett, and B. Stuart.

(RIGHT) Here's our girls' choir performing for our students at the Christmas assembly. (BELOW) The mixed choir also adds to the enjoyment of our audiences.

This year's Madrigals were chosen out of many people who tried out. These girls sing all over the city. Madrigals chosen this year are as follows: (BOTTOM TO TOP) Kerry Beth Finian, Sue Twietmeyer, Darlene Sharp, Cym Schuett, Sandy Fobear, Kathy Milne, Laurie Lopez, Tammy Gordon, Sue Downey, Mary Hodges, Joan Wilson, Joy DeYoung, Darlene Yates, Barb Cook, Karen Preston, Kathy Averill, Andrea Radina.

Vocal Concerts Appreciated by All

Over 200 students have participated in this year's vocal music programs at South School. Included in this year's program was the Mixed and Girls Choir, Madrigals, Glee Club and Folk Singers. Two new additions to our music program this year, the Choristers and Harmonettes, added a bit of change to the music program.

Under the direction of Miss Mary Ellen Gase these students have given us great pleasure.

Music plays an important part in the lives of almost every South student. This year's band and orchestra students are no exceptions. We don't realize the time and effort put into each student's instrument in order to produce top rate sound. Congratulations to Mr. Austin, Mrs. Benjamin, and Mr. Schumate for the time and knowledge given to these music students.

The Orchestra plays for such occasion as the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

Most seventh graders find themselves in the Cadet Band when they get to South.

The Senior Band plays for concerts, football games, and assemblies.

Student Staffs Serve South School

One of the most highly participated in activities at South are student staffs. South students take great pride in the job they do as they perform important services for teachers and other students as they work in the roles of librarians teacher aides, tutors, cafeteria workers, and the rest. We take great pride in presenting recognition to all the students on the staffs as well as the teacher sponsors who make the staffs possible.

ROOM AND BORED, a three act comedy, was the name of this year's play. The scene was a cottage near the beach. The Collins family went there so Mr. Collins could finish writing his book. Claudia, the Collin's oldest daughter, brought home her friend, Craven Bentley, from college. Bentley always talked in rhymes. As the story proceeded, Mrs. Cavendish's jewels and Ming vase are stolen and the town constable blames Tony Foster, Claudia's old boyfriend. In the end of the play, Claudia and Tony get back together again, Mrs. Audubon, a bird watcher, clears Tony of the theft by taking a picture of Craven stealing the vase and jewels, and Mr. Collins gets his book finished.

Journalists Provide Publications

This year's journalism staff was composed of ten ninth graders who had the job of putting together the yearbook and publishing several issues of the Rebel Review. The staff had to meet deadlines, take pictures, think of layout designs, and crop pictures. This year's staff worked especially hard because for the past two years South's yearbook has placed first in the Columbia Scholastic Press Association's yearbook contest.

Spirits High At Athletic

South has again had a successful athletic season. Both boys and girls have done very well in their games. All this takes spirit and sportsmanship and South has plenty of both. We can prove this by the trophies in the showcase. These two pages represent just a part of our Southern spirit.

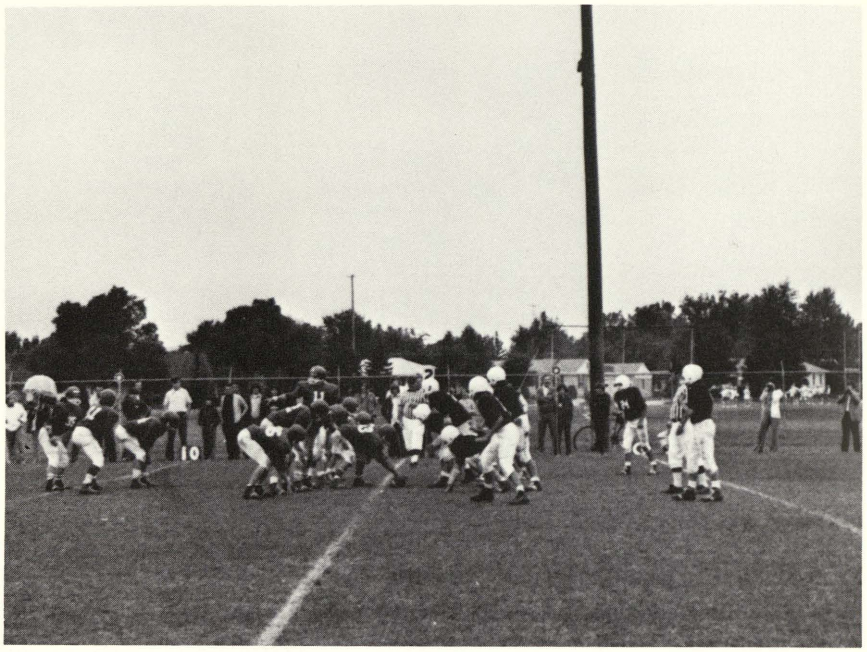
Team Shows Enthusiasm

Our ninth grade football team successfully completed this season with a 6-1 record and only one tie. Strong defense and offense, sparked by team spirit, proved to be the winning combination. Using good passing, running, and blocking, our opponents defense was left far behind. Another important factor in our teams successful season proved to be the defense which held our opponents offense to a minimum in yardage gained.



Our quarterback lines up the offense for a pass play.

Rebel Girls Go Second

This year's volleyball team took second place in the city by winning sixteen out of twenty games. The season started out when the girls played against North and won both games. The rest of the season came with fourteen more wins and four loses. The season was ended with a double victory over Webber. This season's high-scorers were Sue Baker with 29 points and Joy DeYoung with 28 points. Coach Kathy Rulison led her girls with spirit and enthusiasm.

Senior Rebels Take Second

South's Senior Rebels took second place in the City Co-Championship with an 8 win 4 loss record. The leading scorers for South were Kip Kipke with a total of 195 points and Steve Feldt with 185 points. The leading rebounders were Dennis Borchard with 220 rebounds and Scott Jesse with 81. South's field goal percentage was 44% while their free throw percentage was 68%. The most exciting game they played was against Central with a score of 99 to 98. South scored the last six points in the last minute and a half of the game. All of the team members worked hard to get where they are and showed much team spirit.

Dennis Borchard brings in another point for South during their game against North.

John Gerrish adds another point for South while Dennis Borchard and Paul Sternhagen look on.

Girl Rebels Battle for Victories

This was the third year for the seventh, eighth, and ninth grade girls to have their own basketball teams, coached by Miss Stamper. During the season each team played one game against North, Eddy, and Zilwaukee. Both of our teams lost only one game each to North. They both ended in second place.

The junior and senior division of the girls swim team took first place in the city meet. The girls not only took championship but broke records from previous years. The girls swam in many different kinds of races including relays. They also participated in diving. This year's senior and junior girls swim teams have performed admirably and with exceptional success.

Rebel Swimmers Float On Top

This year's senior team took first place again this year to make it our ninth championship in a row. Fine performances were made by all swimmers during the season. They had a good year and put on a hard winning effort to defeat their competitors. Our divers were victorious in most accounts. The junior team had a good year and were usually victorious. All the swimmers had fine performances and so did the divers. South is looking for another championship next year.

South Rebels Swing Into Championship

Last year's baseball team took first place in the city. That was South's seventh consecutive championship. Our winning streak ended at 28 games when we lost to Eddy. A nohitter was pitched by Kip Kipke against Central Junior High. South's team captain was Bill Schultz who led them to victory along with Coach Carl Jacobson.

Last year's track team took fourth place in the city finals but many new records were set such as the 880 yard run, the shot put, and the high jump. South's toughest competition came from Central and Webber Schools. Last year's seventh and eighth graders of last season looked promising for this season.

Now that we have completed the "Games Students Play at South" the journalism staff would like to take this time to express our appreciation to all the people that made the production of this yearbook possible. Mr. Ekelof, the faculty, and the student body who bought yearbooks and sweatshirts to help us raise money, Mr. Gary Benson, American Yearbook Representative, Mr. Fred Briegel of Werkema Studio, to Miss Brown and her art classes for posters and banners used to publicize yearbook sales, and a very special thanks to Mrs. Sparks, our advisor. Along with this year's staff these people made the yearbook possible.

Mr. Griener,
I had a lot of fun being in your class. You had to put up with a lot of goofing around and I think your a really good teacher. Next year when I come back to see my old teachers at South I'll come and see you and maybe (if I listen) I'll be able to talk to you in Spanish.
See ya next year
Jane Schrader

Mr. Greiner. Is the differentist teacher I ever had but is nice and a good Spanish teacher. At least we didn't have to memorize any conversacións like last year.
